IN THIS ISSUE

Changing Lives One Nail at a Time

Floating along the horizon is Navajo Mountain where USU Eastern students spent their spring break painting and hammering in behalf of some of the hundreds of Navajo families living in its sacred shadows.

A New Gateway to Campus

A new gateway to campus. A new place for students, faculty and staff to interact in the mezzanines and other inviting gathering spaces between classes.