In the Business of Appreciation

Michell Worthen Colovich, who graduated from Utah State University Eastern in 1995, today works for a company that makes a business of helping others show appreciation.

Independent Voices from the Past

From the first class of 1938-39, the college sponsored a student newspaper. Going through four name changes its philosophy remains the same; the independent voice of the students.